Reproduction WW2 Camouflage "Amoeba Suit".

Recently made in Russia, these are superior to previous reproductions with excellent color and accurate details.

Two part set, pants and smock. Large cut to fit over the summer uniform. Hood includes drawstrings and an attached, small gauze face mask as per originals. The only compromise was to use a slightly heavier gauge cotton fabric than in WW2 so that these are now more durable than the flimsy originals which were considered disposable. This outstanding reproduction is the same as has been commissioned by Russian movie companies for making big-budget WW2 films. Offered for the first time in USA, it is heads and shoulders above the Chinese-made replicas sold elsewhere.

This pattern was among the earliest of the WW2 camouflage suits and was issued to a variety of troops including engineers, snipers, and paratroopers.

Set includes camouflage pants and smock only. Belt, cap, tunic, and weapon are not included but may be available elsewhere on our website.
