

Soviet M-35 reproduction Uniform, complete set of tunic and trousers.

Dark olive green in heavy durable cotton with red piping. CollectRussia is pleased to offer this next generation of Soviet WW2 reproduction uniforms.

These tunics and trousers have been designed from the ground up for maximum historical accuracy. Using originals as a pattern, our manufacturer worked with textile plants to create and dye fabric to WW2 specifications. He also sought out thread of correct color and diameter.

These high quality garments are made in Russia and are as close to authentic WW2 uniforms as can be. With some field wear and sun fading, these would be very difficult to distinguish from originals.

Sizes tend toward large, keep in mind these field garments were not meant to be close fitting, like tailored service uniforms.

These are new, in near mint unissued condition. The tunic has a couple of minor stains near the left sleeve from storage. Note, these are sold only as sets, and include tunic and pants only. Belt & accessories are not included.

We have the following Russian Military size currently in stock:

54/6 Set Tunic: about a US size 48-50 -- measures approximately 24" across the chest from seam to seam under the armpits. 21" across the chest from sleeve seam to sleeve seam at the level of the 2nd button. 16" neck opening at collar. Length from top of collar reverse to bottom front hem about 35" Length of sleeve from shoulder seam 26". Please note that the pocket fronts are completely plain and do not have a "bellows" effect.

Trousers about a US size 38. About 19" across the top above the belt loops. 33" inseam, 43" from top to cuffs.
