

"Young Geologist", Polonnoe Artistic Ceramics Factory, 1956-1973, very large porcelain figurine of Soviet schoolboy examining a rock while holding his magnifier at the ready.

Approximately 12 ¼" X 5 ¾" x 6" (31 x 14.5 x 15cm). Glazed porcelain figure with gold detailing. Blue trademark of the Polonnoe Factory.

Excellent condition with no chips or cracks.

The model of the statuette "Young Geologist" (Юный геолог) also known as "Young Naturalist" (Юный натуралист) was created in 1952. This realistic figure is intended as a "stand alone" decorative item to decorate a home, a teacher's office, or even a school library. The perfect representation of youthful inquisitiveness. Ideal for display now in the living room or study of anyone who has a son - or anyone who's not forgotten the delight of discovery.

/ Fig. 149 on p.140 of "Soviet Porcelain [Volume 3]" /

/trademark is #567 in Volume One of "Marks on Soviet Porcelain, Faience, and Majolica, 1917-1991" /

Item# 22413

$175.00

© Atlantic Crossroads, Inc.
www.collectrussia.com

© Atlantic Crossroads, Inc.
www.collectrussia.com

© Atlantic Crossroads, Inc.
www.collectrussia.com

© Atlantic Crossroads, Inc.
www.collectrussia.com

© Atlantic Crossroads, Inc.
www.collectrussia.com

© Atlantic Crossroads, Inc.
www.collectrussia.com

© Atlantic Crossroads, Inc.
www.collectrussia.com

© Atlantic Crossroads, Inc.
www.collectrussia.com

