

Breast Shield of the OVO (Security Guard Department) of the City of Saratov, MVD of Russian Federation.

Aluminum, paint, lacquer; 92.9 x 73.6 mm. The inscription in the upper portion over the Russian national flag is "MVD RF" (Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russian Federation). The word under the state emblem of double-headed eagle is "Security"; the inscription on the sky-blue field is "OVO, Saratov". (Russian abbreviation OVO ("OVO") stands for Отдел Вневедомственной Охраны, literally "Department of Security External to the Department" - i.e. security service run by the national MVD Police as opposed to the ministry or agency that owns the important object that is being guarded.) The badge is in excellent condition.

Please note: The penny in the last photo is there for size reference.
