

Danila the Master Craftsman and His Vase (aka "The Potter"), large composition in porcelain by Sysert Ceramic Goods Factory, 1968-1977.

Very impressive piece measuring approx. 8" (20 cm) tall, 6 1/4" x 3 1/4" at the base. This figurine is based on the P. Bazhov's fairytale Stone Flower. In excellent condition. The glaze, including the highly reflective mirror-like surfaces of the vase and workman's apron, is perfectly preserved and free of scuffs. This figurine can be a nice display centerpiece or, if desired, serve as a unique vase or possibly even a candlestick (with some necessary precautions so as not to damage the glaze).

/Trademark #679 in Vol. 1 of Marks on Soviet Porcelain, Faience, and Majolica, 1917-1991 /

Please note, pen in our photo is for size reference.

Item# 36447

$125.00

