

Communist Afghanistan Army officer hat badge for a full- dress visor hat, 1980-87.

In aluminum and paint, the larger version measuring 58.9 mm in height x 60.1 mm in width. Features the early version of the state emblem of the Democratic Republic of Afghanistan, with the book. The emblem was changed in 1987.

In very fine condition. The paint well- preserved overall showing only minor scuffs, tiny contact marks and a single miniscule chip to the white paint at the top edge of the book which is not too noticeable or detractive. There are no large chips or other glaring damage. The anodized finish is perfectly preserved and bright, completely free of the usual tarnish. The attachment prongs are intact and fully functional. Afghan communist-era insignia like this have become increasingly difficult to find in the recent years, especially in anything like collectible condition.

Please note, penny in our photo is for size reference.
