

Lenin, statuette in Silumin alloy, by Teplov, dated 1977.

About 12" tall; base measures 5" x 3". Weighs nearly 6 lb, a comparatively massive piece. The first Soviet dictator is shown in his trademark pose, one hand in trouser pocket, the other clutching the jacket lapel. He is staring forward contemplating the destruction of the bourgeoisie and the resulting workers' paradise. The name of the sculptor N. Teplov who created the original and 1977 date are marked on the back.

In excellent condition, free of significant wear of any kind.

Please note: The pen in our photo is there for size reference.
