

M 1952 Waist Belt with Hangers for Air Force Officer Dagger, early to late 1950s.

In braided brown cotton fabric with smooth cotton liner; brass hardware. Adjustable size will fit up to 42" waist. The liner shows a mostly illegible maker mark with an "OTK" quality control mark.

In excellent condition; comes complete with all buckles and carbine clips included. The fabric is perfectly clean and sound, the brass hardware free of verdigris or blemishes.

This very scarce model was in use only until the late 50s prior to the reform of the Soviet uniform code. Afterwards, daggers were worn by Air Force officers only on rare occasions and only with a full-dress uniform, with a "ceremonial" belt in gold silk tress.
