

Military Photo ID Issued on 30 July 1940 to Captain Egor Yakushov (Егор Семенович Якушов), a Staff Member of the Podolsk Artillery School, July 1940.

Hard cover booklet, 3 x 2". The lettering on the front cover reads "NKO (Narkomat of Defense) of the USSR, Identification Card, Moscow Military District." The ID photo inside is validated by the ink stamp of the Podolsk Artillery School. The ID states that Yakushov was born on 18 April 1903 in the city of Mogilev, Belorussian SSR, was married, and promoted to the rank of Captain on 14 September 1939. The page for issued weapons lists two Nagant revolvers issued in 1940 and 1941, the first of them returned.

In very good to excellent condition. The cardboard cover shows mild attractive wear to the coating layer, mostly to the corners and along the edges, emphasizing the age and authenticity of the document. The ID photo is a little under-developed but in sharp focus, with the insignia clearly visible and identifiable. The binding staple is tight and strong. All the printed, handwritten, and stamped entries are clear and perfectly legible.

The city of Podolsk lays just to the south of Moscow. Its Artillery School, founded in 1938, was preparing anti-tank artillery platoon commanders. The school's profile and location were a major factor in that its cadets and staff were engaged in the Battle of Moscow. All 1,500 cadets and staff of the Podolsk Artillery School and 2,000 cadets and staff of the Podolsk Infantry School were thrown into the severely depleted defense line near Mozhaisk to the west of Moscow. According to some sources, about 500 of the 3,500 survived to continue fighting the war.
