Full Standing Statuette of Lenin in His Signature Pose, by sculptor Murzin, 1978.

In Silumin alloy, stands 8 ¾" tall, the plinth measures approx. 3" x 2 ½". The sculptor captured Lenin in his signature pose: one arm akimbo, the other's thumb stuck in his vest. Although standing still, Lenin's figure is very dynamic and full of energy, like a coiled spring ready to unleash its energy on the unsuspecting Russia. The sculptor's name and year are seen at the back of the plinth.

In very good to excellent condition. There is a surface scratch going along the front of the left leg and a small nick above the knee. A couple of small bumps and minor oxidation spots are evident on the surface of the plinth. None of this wear is very obvious or detractive.

Please note that the quarter coin in our photo is for size reference.
